

-Squirrel-House

Hand-carved & Hand-painted

Have you ever wondered where squirrels live. This carved cedar plays with the idea the squirrel lives in an old mans beard. See the next pages for the full story of the bearded wizard Squirrel.

Hand-carved and hand-painted out of cedar with a final two coats of exterior polyurethane

Size: 6 ft tall with a width of 6 inches.

The story goes, an old wizard fell asleep one fall morning and awoke six months later with a large gray squirrel living in his beard. What the old wizard did not know was the squirrel was a very powerful wizard himself and had shapeshifted into a gray squirrel so he could hide in the wizards' beard over the winter to avoid persecution from the local wizard guild. It would turn out the beard he picked belonged to the grand wizard and was, in fact, the wizard that signed the order to track him down. It is better to hide in plain sight than to run like a chicken! There is more to this story, but just not enough paper to tell the full story.
